THE FLEECE
HOTEL
RICHMOND, NORTH YORKSHIRE

WELCOME

The Fleece Hotel is a Victorian Castellated Gothic Revival pile that was designed by GG Hoskins and built in 1897 as a grand-style coaching inn. Over one hundred and twenty years later, following many incarnations, it is returning to its former glory for the 21st century as a contemporary and stylish hotel of quality and character.

The new Fleece Hotel captures those expansive Victorian times and with a service ethos that matches that elegant period.
